CRANTON continues to lead the secand division in the League race, having ousted Altoons from that position during the week Although we have advanced one step forward in the race our percentage is less than it was a week ago. Today and tomorrow we will do battle with the "only Mike" and his Allentown aggregation, and with any kind of team work should take one of the games. We need the game, and if it is lost

We need the game, and it it is test by any such playing as "our pats" in-dulged in last Monday against Harris-burg, it means trouble ahead for some one. Ours is one of the highest salaried clubs in the State league and there is a growing feeling among the members of the association that the boys must put up an article of ball commensurate with the salaries they receive,

Scranton has been unfortunate in two respects this season, lack of team work and inability to get its pitchers in condition. Hodson, Flannagan and Doran have no superiors in the state league when in condition, but thus far the majority of the victorious games have been pitched by Hodson. The warm weather is favorable for Flan-aghan who is now in good form as his work against Harrisburg showed. He is unfortunate, however, in the sup-port he receives at critical moments of the game. Doran would be of great service to the club if he would mend his nabits and keep in form. He is really a clever twirler.

Harrisburg continues to lead the procession with Allentown slowly closing up the gap between them. Hazleton clings tenacionsly to third place, but we will have them out of it before the end of the season if Manager Swift does his duty.

The following table gives the percentages of the clubs, together with the number of games won and lost by each, and their standing in the cham-

WON ONE FROM EASTON:

Park's Reorganized Team Played a Spirited Game.

Scranton took a game from the reorganized Easton club on Saturday at Although Manager Parks' team was a patched up team it played a spirited game. Easton had no catcher and Rogers, of the Scranton club, was allowed by Manager Swift to do the back stop work for Easton.

Spanner Carr, of last year's Scranton club, was in the box for Easton. The
